

Dear {First Name},

This year, Performathon will look a little different. Instead of a day-long event at the Music Center with a bake sale, Performathon will be a week-long event of hour-long online performances released each night on our website and YouTube page beginning Monday November 16 at 7 PM.

More than 150 students have signed up to perform and recorded their own videos from home. The outpouring of student interest brings home to me how important music is in times like these.

Every student who fundraises and receives at least one donation will win a USB microphone to help them with their online lessons. As you can imagine, it is difficult for some of our students to fundraise in this online-only situation.

That's where you step in. We're asking our community of donors to contribute to our students' campaigns. Let them know they have your support.

While we encourage you to donate to any and all of our students, we wanted to highlight some campaigns that need your support.

PERFORMATHON

NOV 16 through NOV 19
7 PM to 8 PM nightly

Fabricio, a BEAM student, will play A Russian Folk Song on his bassoon. You can support his campaign here.

Jessica will perform Alla Turca on violin. She says CMCB has helped her learn so much. Support her here.

Ava will be performing Fight Song. Support her here.

At this time, perhaps more than ever, we are focused on providing platforms and opportunities for our students to inspire hope in our community with their music, passion, and dedication. By making a contribution to their campaigns, you will bring them hope and joy.

Please share this email with anyone you think may be interested in chipping in to help our students reach their goals. And be sure to tune in nightly next week to cheer our students on!

Sincerely,
Sarah, Chief Advancement Officer

December News at New Art

The end of the year is always busy at a nonprofit and we're no different. This month alone we have celebrated the opening of the 2023 Small Works exhibition, welcomed Lennon Hernandez as new exhibitions coordinator, celebrated our faculty, hosted a pop-up art exhibition and are now working on prepping for the new year!

In January, we will be switching our class registration system. More information will come shortly with details. In the meantime, just know this new system promises ease of use, which will make everyone happier.

We have also changed texting providers. Please sign up to receive relevant alerts. Even if you have received texts from us in the past, you must opt-in to our new texting program. We use texting to alert students to closures, location changes, and other logistical information.

Wishing you all the brightest holiday season with dear friends and family.

In Community, Rebecca

As a reminder, we'll be closed from December 25- January 1 for the Holiday Break.

Make a Donation To Support New Art Today!

You are an essential part of the New Art Center, your home for art, culture, connection, and community. You can strengthen New Art with a tax-deductible gift before the end of the year. Classes, exhibitions, camps, art therapy, and free community events are all made possible through your generosity.

As a non-profit organization, we rely on donations to support our work. Your gift helps us pay the bills, provide scholarships, and offer free community programs. If you already gave, thank you! If not, we hope you'll show up for New Art before the end of the calendar year with a tax-deductible donation.

Thank you!

Emily O'Neil
Executive Director

MARILYN RODMAN PERFORMING ARTS CENTER

HEADLINERS

VOL. 2, ISSUE 4.

APRIL 2022

*An insider's guide to the happenings at
The Marilyn Rodman Performing Arts Center in Foxborough, Massachusetts.*

The Rodman Awards

Awardees from last year's Rodman Awards!

Our second annual Rodman Awards, an event to honor community members, organizations, institutions, students and businesses who have inspired, impacted and enhanced their communities during the pandemic, will be Thursday, May 19, 2022 at 6:00 PM.

This year, the Rodman Awards are about filling our theater with members of the community. Tickets are pay-what-you-can. Join the magic and be a part of the show!

Buy Tickets - Pay What You Can

Support the Community Access Fund

The funds raised from the Rodman Awards will support our Community Access Fund. This fund will allow us to provide space for productions who might not otherwise have the budget to use our theater. In addition, this fund can be used to provide performing arts experiences to those who might not be able to afford them.

New Sound System

Thanks to the team from Matty Colon Production Unlimited for installing our new sound system! With the improved sound quality, we are now looking to add more music to our calendar. Send suggestions our way!

Poetry at the MRPAC

Poetry L-R: Attleboro Poet Laureate Briana Serradas, Artistic Director Jenn Rathbun, and audience member Robert D.

To celebrate National Poetry Month, Briana Serradas, the Poet Laureate of Attleboro, hosted a poetry reading in the theater. Attendees read poems by Jane Kenyon, E.E. Cummings, Eve Ewing, April Freely, and others. In between audience readings, Briana shared original poems and discussed the importance of writing as a way to build community and process the world.

Movie at the MRPAC: Disney Descendants

The teenage son of the king and queen of Auradon offers the trouble-making children of villains a chance to attend prep school in the kingdom. Meet Mal, Carlos, Jay, and Evie as they learn to be good, when they are rotten to the core.

TWO SHOWS: 10:00 AM* & 12:00 PM

SENSORY FRIENDLY

VIEWING (10:00 AM Show) For this viewing, moviegoers can expect lights in the theater to be dimmed and not turned off completely. Audio levels will also be taken to a lower level. Those enjoying the movie should feel comfortable reacting to the movie in whatever way they wish - whether that be moving, vocalizing, dancing or even singing along. We welcome all to this inclusive and welcoming environment. The Upper Lobby will be available for taking breaks as needed.
